MUSTANG REFLECTIONS 1970

EASTERN HEIGHTS HIGH SCHOOL
AGRA, KANSAS

VOLUME IV

Published by

Annual Staff

Assistant Editor ... Sheila Losey

Foreword

Reflections on this year continue to produce a glowing memory of a definite milestone in the progress of the EASTERN HEIGHTS HIGH SCHOOL. Many achievements have crowned the efforts of the students, administrators, faculty, Board of Education, and patrons.

This year, for the first time, Eastern Heights had a darkroom, a class period for learning successful yearbook production, a class in boys' home economics, a special class in speech and newspaper production, and many other fine accomplishments.

MUSTANG REFLECTIONS presents to readers memories of happy moments spent in academics, in activities, and in the social life of the school. We, the annual staff, have tried to capture images of the strength, grace, endurance, and the splendid powerful spirit of the MUSTANGS as they charged through every difficulty during the school year.

Our story of this school year has as its main characters the students, faculty, administrators, school board, and the school employees. The setting is in our beloved Alma Mater and the plot embraces samplings of all that has taken place during this year.

Practicing in the darkroom, Kenneth Hadley experiments with the enlarger.

Superintendent's Message

At no other period in the history of the world has a society submitted itself to a weight of levied taxes comparable to that borne by the people of the United States. And it should be remembered that no society preceding this has been so willing to devote so great a share of its time and labor and dollars to improve life and health and educational opportunities for millions of others both here and around the world.

The criticism that comes from these efforts is unfair. It lacks credibility when it comes from those who have not been tested in this same crucible and from those who have not yet abandoned the sound and fury for the wearying personal sacrifice that means things are being done.

Our generation can look back with some pride at the progress we have made. We will have left this world a little bit better.

Millions of people still have never known a full meal. Millions still are groping in the darkness of illiteracy. Millions are suffering from sickness and disease. There remains much to do. The festering sores of the world have not been healed. More than critics and demonstrations the world needs doers. We need hands with scalpels and pencils.

My challenge to the youth of today is to take what is here and make it better. You have much to offer.

Mr. Robert E. Mosier, Superintendent
Eastern Heights Schools

Board Of Education

Principal's Message

As we start into the decade of the '70's, the world seems to be in a state of confusion, dissatisfaction, hatred and suffering. Young people have a sense of rebellion and are constantly wanting a change. A change to what?

At no time in the history of our nation has there been so much wealth and prosperity with the accompanying freedom and liberties given the young people.

With the new freedom that youth is clamoring for, there are also added responsibilities. Just to dissent or to be dissatisfied is pure folly without offering a constructive change or solution.

I have no doubts that the youth of today have the abilities and determination to meet their problems head-on and arrive at solutions. However, there should be definite constructive goals established.

Great things have happened during the span of the present generation in all fields with perhaps a lag in the social and political fields. In other words, men have not learned to live in harmony with one another.

I feel the youth of today is conscious of the need to find a solution to the world problems of fellowship and love, and I am confident they are capable of solving them.

This yearbook of dreams and accomplishments, I'm sure, will not only serve as a lingering memory but also as evidence of your sincere desire and proof to be a worthy member of society.

Mr. Clarence A. Schamber, Principal
Eastern Heights High School

Guidance Available To Teens

Guidance is needed throughout everyone's life, but it is especially needed during the crucial teen years. Mr. W. C. Fleming, guidance counselor, attempts to help students make decisions which will affect their future lives.

TOP RIGHT: Explaining job opportunities to David Wyrill is one way that Mr. Fleming helps students.

Varied Tasks Keep Students Busy

School is not just all studying. Many other activities are involved, such as sponsoring parties, working at concession stands, and just keeping the school neat.

Employees Serve School

Helping Mr. Mueller to sweep the floors after school is one of Curtis Atchinson's jobs.

TOP LEFT: Cleaning blackboards is only one of the many tasks that Mr. Ed Mueller undertakes each day to keep the school and grounds neat. His day begins at 7 a. m. and his last task is usually not finished until 5 p. m. or after.

TOP RIGHT: Dishwashing is a time consuming job for Mrs. Lavella Myers and Mrs. Mary Edna Gooder, cooks at the high school. Good hot lunches are the result of their labors.

BOTTOM RIGHT: Mrs. Mary Kincaid, Mrs. Alpha Peugh, and Mrs. Marie Perkins make noodles for the grade school students lunch. The cooks work hard to prepare balanced meals for the students.

Drivers Deliver Students

RIGHT: Ora Elliott waits for the students to board his bus so that he can start his route.

RIGHT: Discussing their various routes, Wayne Anderson, Wayne Baker, and Francis Gordon wait for the school bell to dismiss the children who ride their busses.

RIGHT: Driving the school bus is a sideline for both Lovell Elliott and Clarence Davis.

TOP: Sweeping the halls after school is only one of the many custodial tasks of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Stroup.

BOTTOM: After the children are through playing in the gym for the day, Mr. and Mrs. George Stroup prepare to clean it for another day's play.

Commencement Brings Happy Climax For Grads

Completing their four years of high school, on May 28, the seniors marched down the aisles of the auditorium for the last time as high school students. They were accompanied by Miss Mildred Dixon who played "Pomp and Circumstance" for both the processional and recessional.

The invocation and the benediction were given by Rev. Lynn Evans. Two musical numbers were presented by Georgia Perkins who sang the "Impossible Dream" and by the boys' octet who sang "I Believe."

The address by Mr. Richard H. Mosier, President of Colby Junior College, was appreciated.

Diplomas were presented to the graduates by Mr. Robert Mosier, superintendent of schools and Mr. Bruce Stockman, school board president.

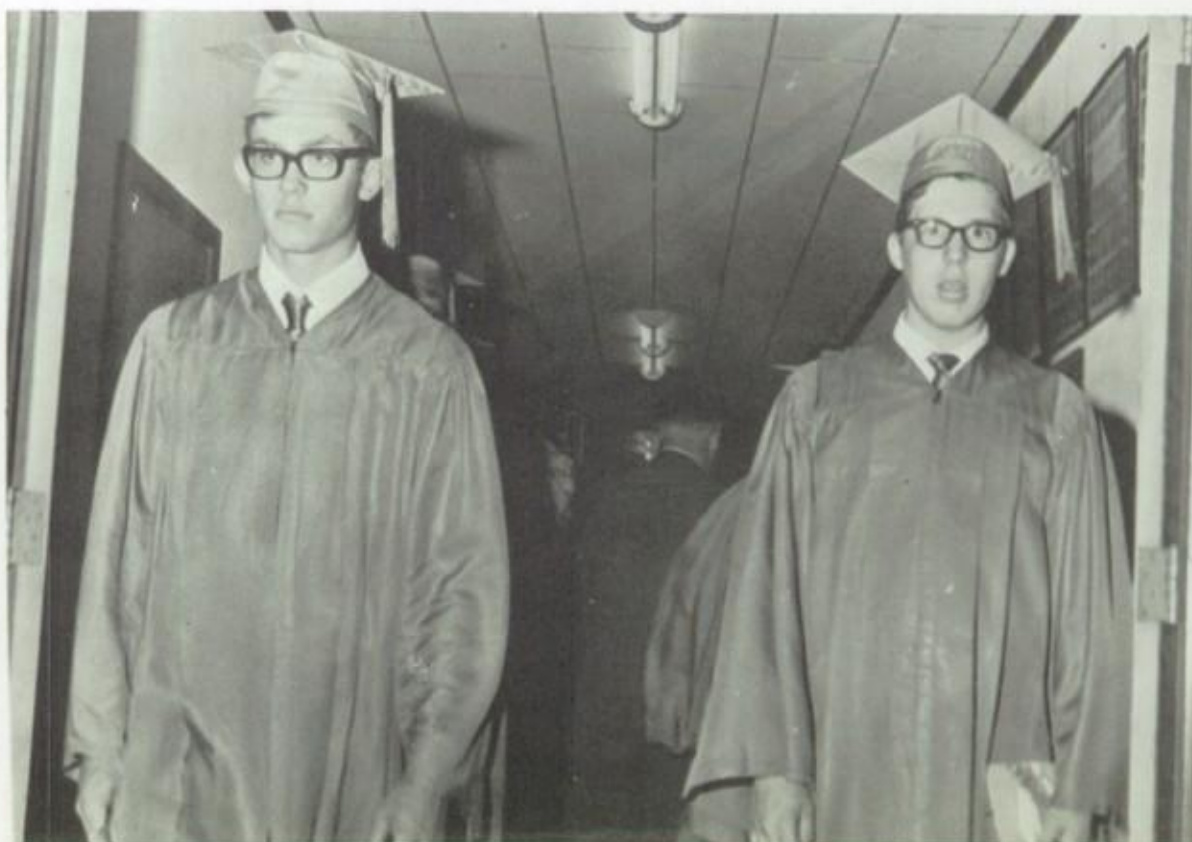

Climaxing Commencement, the seniors lined up for the symbolic cutting of the ribbon by Prin. C. A. Schamber.

ABOVE: Shaking hands in the reception line is the final act for the seniors as the graduation exercises come to a close.

ATHLETICS

The 1969 Eastern Heights High School Mustangs were undefeated on their new home field, and finished the season with a 6-2 record, best in the school's history. After defeating Luray in the season opener, the Mustangs lost their next two contests, to Ruskin, Neb., and Bogue. EH finished second in the NSSL.

EH came storming back, however, and won their next five games in succession, ending the season considered by many to be one of the best 8-man teams in the state.

Mustang lettermen who made first team All-League were Roger Baker, Joe Goracke, Greg Abbott, and Dave Wyrill. Lettermen who made second team All-League were Barry Miller, Bob Knowles, Bob Ragsdale, and Tim Ehm. Other Lettermen were Eldon Blackburn and Steve Knowles.

Joe Goracke is brought down after a good gain against Bogue.

Mustangs Nab Share of League Crown

"A" Scoreboard

Compiling the best record in the 4-year history of EHHS, the Mustang cage team posted an 11-9 record for the year.

Holding a 4-1 mark at the Christmas break, the Mustangs ran into stiffer competition as the season progressed.

Still, the Mustangs managed a share of the NSSL title with Bogue, and placed second to Bogue in the league tourney.

The Mustangs also garnered third in the District Tournament at Norton, a feat no previous Mustang cage squad had accomplished.

Lettermen were Greg Abbott, Tim Ehm, Joe Goracke, Eldon Blackburn, Roger Baker, Dave Wyrill, Bob Ragsdale, Alan Seachord, and Bryan Lare.

Ehm and Abbott led scorers with 17.5 and 17.4 averages, respectively. Ehm also led in rebounding.

Ehm and Abbott were named to the NSSL All-League first team. Kaiser and Wyrill made second team and Blackburn was named to honorable mention.

When the season was completed, Ehm was elected the most valuable player on the squad, and Abbott and Wyrill were named co-captains for the season.

EH Second In League

Inclement weather held the Mustang thinclads to a minimum number of meets in 1970.

A few members of the squad participated in the State Indoor and Regional meets, and the whole squad took part in the Hays Relays, Jewell Invitational, Beloit Relays, and the League meet.

EH took second in the NSSL meet, held in the mud and rain at Plainville.

Lettermen for the year were: Greg Abbott, Joe Goracke, Roger Baker, David Wyrill, Barry Miller, Robert Kaiser, Tim Ehm, Bryan Lare, Don Redinger, Ron Matteson, Steve Knowles, John Schmid, Junior Blair, and Dennis Elliott.

Greg Abbott and Joe Goracke were selected co-captains for the season.

Athletes Earn M-Club Status

Functioning as the EH athletic honor society, the M-Club promoted several projects and had a wiener roast at the year's end.

The M-Club helped sponsor Twirp Week and the Valentine Dance, and also bought plaques with lettermen's names on them to be placed on the trophies won by EH in the last two years.

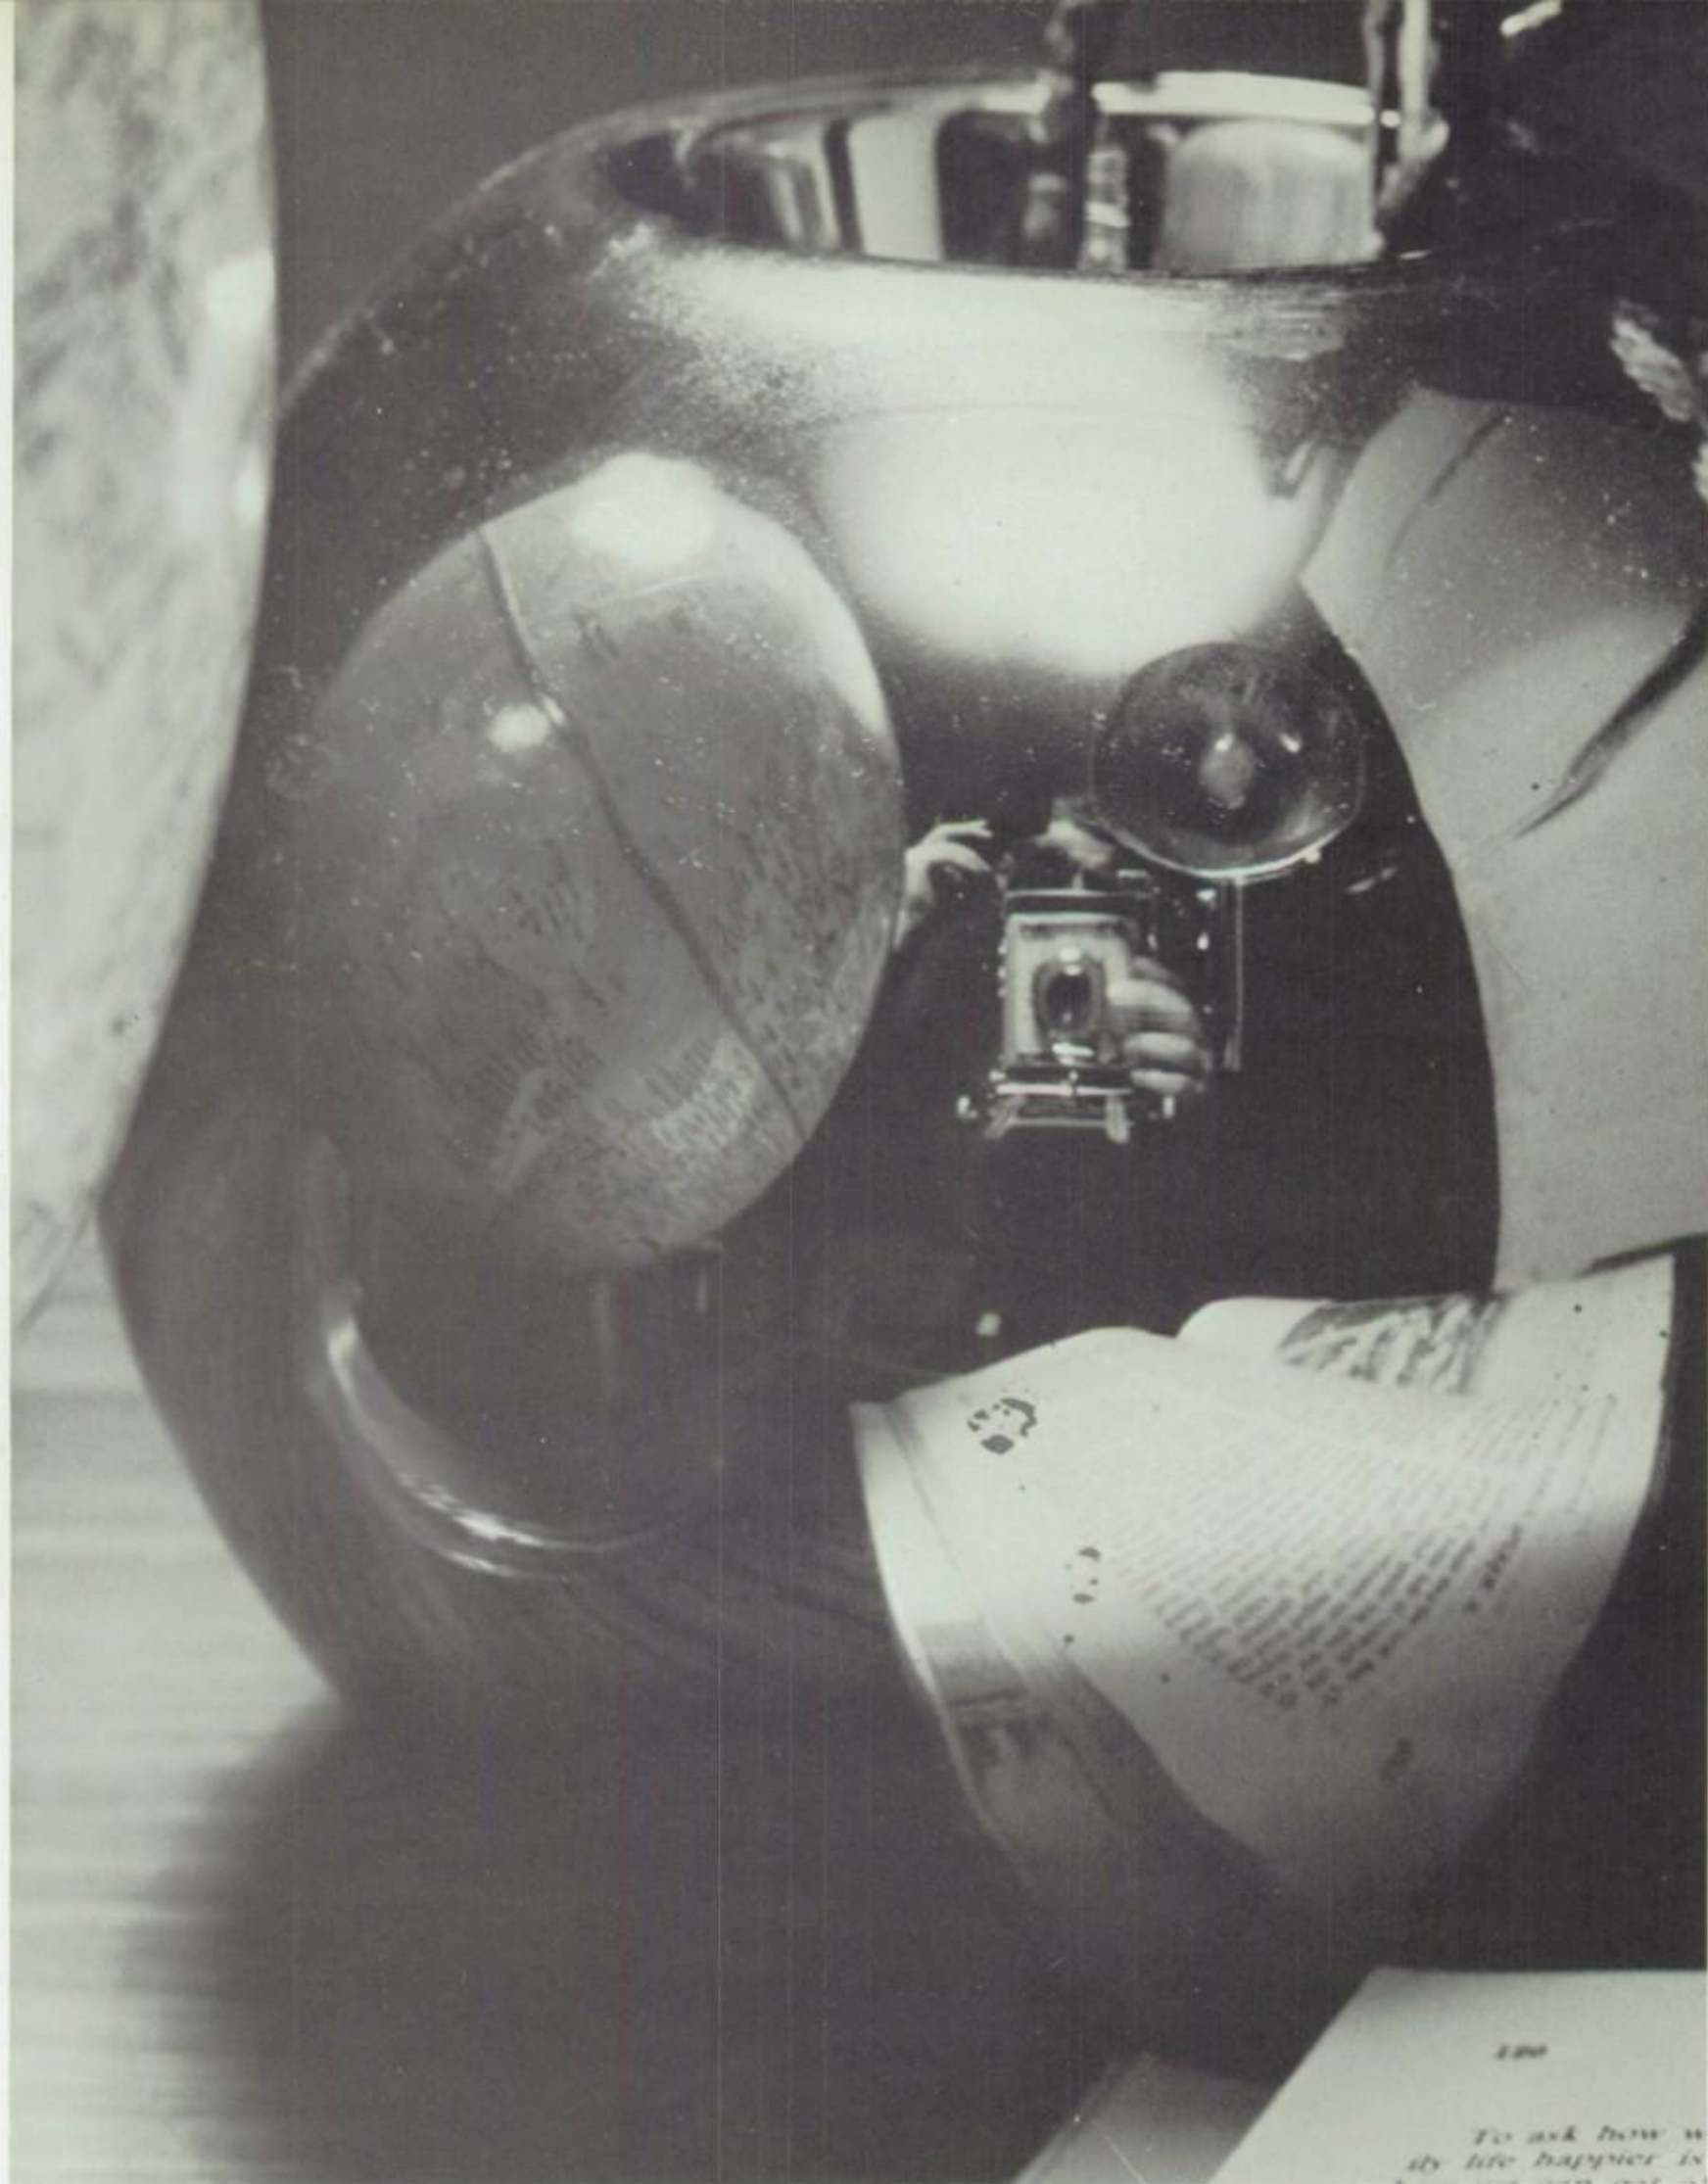

Officers were Greg Abbott, President; Roger Baker, Vice-President; Tim Ehm, Secretary; Barry Miller, Treasurer; Joe Goracke, Stuco Rep.

To join the M-Club one must have earned a varsity letter at EH.

New members in '69-'70 were John Goracke, Bryan Lare, Alan Seachord, and Steve Knowles.

ACTIVITIES

Centennial Highlights

TOP LEFT: Depicting both old and new with their float, You've Come A Long Way, Baby, the sophomores received first place in the high school competition.

TOP RIGHT: The freshmen said that they would walk a mile for the Kirwin Centennial. Their float resembled a boot with a hole in the bottom.

BOTTOM LEFT: Many packages of napkins were used to stuff the senior's float, a covered wagon. Their theme was Kirwin's Pioneer Heritage.

BOTTOM RIGHT: Earning third prize was the reward which the juniors received for their portrayal of Kirwin's First Ivy Halls.

RIGHT: Hours of work were spent building the frame for the junior's float. Mike Losey measures to make sure that the school will be in proportion.

Old Settlers' Day

TOP LEFT: Old Time Religion was the theme of the first graders float. They received third place for their church.

TOP RIGHT: The fifth grade received first prize for their float Kirwin - A Jewel In Our State. Tin foil was used to make a pretty jewel box.

Victory Enhances Homecoming

Bad weather caused midweek anxieties over homecoming activities, but by Friday everything seemed to be in the Mustangs' favor.

The halftime ceremonies included the crowning of King Roger Baker. Baker then crowned Queen Sue Dix. First attendants were Joe Goracke and Janice Schmid. Greg Abbott and Sheila Losey were second attendants.

The climax of the evening was the victory over Alton 32-8.

Afterward a dance was held in the gym. Decorations of red, white, and blue were done by the Pep Club.

Royalty Reigns On Valentine's

Reigning as Queen of Hearts at the Valentine's Party, Holiday of Hearts, was Diana Bradley. Queen Diana crowned David Wyrill King of Hearts.

David and Diana reigned over their court who were: First attendants, Sue George and Tim Ehm; Second attendants, Shirley McFarland and John Schmid; Third attendants, Connie Wallace and Bill Ragsdale.

Music by The Cement Tricycle was enjoyed by students and their guests. This band was furnished by Agra's Farmer's National Bank to observe "Bank on Youth Week."

The Kayettes, M-Club, and Student Council sponsored the party. They decorated the gym and served refreshments to all.

Prom Highlights Social Events

BOTTOM RIGHT: Mothers of the juniors worked hard to prepare the fine meal that was served at the banquet.

VALEDICTORIAN - Robert Kaiser
SALUTATORIAN - Sheila Losey

Following the Athletic Banquet was the annual awards presentation May 26.

The most important announcement was that the Valedictorian was Robert Kaiser and the Salutatorian was Sheila Losey.

Two awards for music were given to two outstanding music students. Marjorie Bock received the John Philip Sousa Award for instrumental music and Chris Rodgers for vocal music.

Joe Goracke and Sheila Losey were awarded the American Legion Awards for being outstanding students in the school.

Mrs. Carolyn Redinger announced that Georgia Perkins was Kayette of the Year.

Gary Butler gave out typing and shorthand pins and with Keith Farrens presented letters to the athletes.

Mrs. Anna Mae Fischli passed out pep club pins and Mr. C. A. Schamber gave pins to the Student Council members.

Mr. Schamber also acknowledge Robert Kaiser for his perfect attendance for four years and the other attendance honors.

TOP LEFT: Chris Rodgers and Marjorie Bock receive John Philip Sousa Awards for being outstanding in vocal and instrumental music.

BOTTOM LEFT: Georgia Perkins, who was chosen Kayette of the Year, gives Mrs. Carolyn Redinger, the Kayette sponsor, a present from the Kayettes.

Seniors Cool Frosh

For the freshmen the high school year is never really official until after initiation. This year the seniors delegated freshmen to carry their books and lunches. To help the janitor, the freshmen were asked to clean the sidewalk cracks with their toothbrushes.

An assembly program was held so that each freshman might perform his specialty according to senior instructions.

An all-school watermelon feed and dance was held in the evening by the seniors as a peace offering.

Parties Added To Enjoyment

The school parties added zest and enjoyment to the school year. The first party was the Kayette season opener on August 29. Then came the initiation watermelon feed on September 6. The festive Homecoming dance on October 17 was a memorable event.

November seemed to be the month for class parties. The Sophomores held theirs on the very first day of the month. The Freshmen selected the 11th, the Juniors the 21st, and the Seniors the 22nd.

The all-school Valentine's Party highlighted February's social calendar.

The Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, held on May 8, by many was considered the crowning social event of the year.

Play Satirizes Man

Working hard to prove that a drama class is worthwhile, the students produced the play, "The Skin of Our Teeth" by Thornton Wilder.

They play is a satire of man's life down through the ages. It is a testament of faith in humanity.

Main parts were played by Ginny Kincaid, Georgia Perkins, Brenda Lala, Joe Goracke, Greg Abbott, and Connie Wallace. Minor roles were played by Chris Rodgers, Bryan Lare, Eddy McGuire, Terri Ross, Robert Kaiser, Alan Seachord, Mark Kaiser, Steve Knowles, Sheila Losey, Rhonda Smith, Barry Miller, Roger Baker, and Judy Haskett.

The production crew included: Director, Ron Fischli; Music, Miss Mildred Dixon; Stage Manager, Sheila Losey; Set Construction Manager, Joe Goracke; Costumes, Mrs. Anna Mae Fischli; Set Design, Lighting, and Sound, Drama Class.

Other district ratings were Robert Kaiser, original oration, II; Mark Kaiser, informative speech, II; Ginny Kincaid, dramatic interpretation, II. People with III ratings were: Sonja Webb, dramatic interpretation; Terri Ross, dramatic interpretation; Joe Goracke and Ginny Kincaid, duet act.

Happening Wins First Class Rating

HAPPENING STAFF

SEATED: Connie Wallace, Ginny Kincaid, Georgia Perkins, Sheila Losey - News Ed., Robert Kaiser - Editor. STANDING: Mr. Ron Fischli - Advisor, Eddy McGuire, Mark Kaiser, Judy Haskett, Bryan Lare, Alan Seachord, Joe Goracke, Greg Abbott - Sports Ed., Steve Knowles, Brenda Lala, Terri Ross.

This year, the HAPPENING joined the National Scholastic Press Association, an organization that judges high school newspapers. For the first semester, the HAPPENING received a First Class rating and in the judging a "Mark of Distinction" was given for content and coverage.

The drama class published the HAPPENING every two weeks. Because class time was divided between dramatics and newspaper, the staff had to work many evenings to get the paper out on time.

TOP RIGHT: While Joe Goracke makes a last minute adjustment on a stencil, Rhonda Smith, Ginny Kincaid, and Connie Wallace staple newspapers.

BOTTOM RIGHT: Studying a stencil, Greg Abbott looks for typing errors. Sheila Losey folds letters that will be sent to other high schools. Running the mimeograph machine is Eddy McGuire.

Annual Staffers Record Memories

ANNUAL STAFF

Librarians Serve The School

Under the direction of Mrs. Carolyn Redinger, Rhonda Smith, Jerry White, Barry Miller, Terry Elliott, Virginia Kincaid and Anita Robinson served as student library assistants for 1969-70.

These students were responsible for various periods in the library, checked the books in and out, kept the library in order and helped with the processing of the new library materials. They deserve much credit for their fine service to the school.

ORGANIZATIONS

Kayettes Work For Award

FIRST ROW: E. Larick, D. Otis, J. Haskett, M. Larick, S. Dix - Secretary, D. Christy - Vice-President, G. Perkins - President, S. George - Treasurer, B. Lala, G. Kincaid. SECOND ROW: S. Webb, M. Bock, D. Forell, S. Seachord, T. Baker, L. DeBey, J. Ehm, T. Ross, N. Bock. THIRD ROW: Mrs. Redinger - Sponsor, S. Molzahn, J. Haskett, D. Baker, C. Wallace, R. Webb, R. Massey, A. Robinson, C. Dennis, J. Haskett. NOT PICTURED: R. Smith and S. McFarland.

This year the Kayettes worked hard toward winning the 3000-point award. This meant that all the girls in the club had to cooperate on the many service projects.

Every year the Kayettes have heart sisters to help celebrate Valentines Day. Showing Sue George and Terri Ross the gift she has received from her heart sister Sue Dix displays genuine appreciation.

Serving at the Kayette soup supper, a money-making project, are Dara Otis and Anita Robinson.

Some of the projects the Kayettes sponsored this year were school clean-up, meals for millions, hurricane relief, Valentines' Dance, Mother-Daughter Tea, and they outfitted two little boys in Easter clothing for a community project.

Reading to Mrs. Vern Cook was a community project done by the Kayettes. Terri Baker and Janis Ehm are shown here reading magazines to Mrs. Cook.

Pep Squad Boosts Spirit

FIRST ROW: Mrs. Fischli, G. Perkins, D. Elliott, C. Dennis, R. Webb, J. Schmid. SECOND ROW: G. Kincaid, J. Ehm, C. Wallace, S. Webb, J. Haskett, M. Larick, S. George, M. Bock, E. Larick, T. Ross. THIRD ROW: N. Bock, B. Lala, S. Seachord, K. Kincaid, R. Massey, D. Bradley, D. Otis, M. Stockman, S. Molzhan, D. Forell. FOURTH ROW: S. Dix, G. Thomas, L. DeBey, T. Baker, D. Christy, D. Baker, B. McCormack, A. Robinson, S. Losey.

The EHHS squad helped lead the Mustangs to many victories by their enthusiastic spirit. No matter what the weather was or the number of miles to the opponent's town, the girls were always present at the game.

Operating the three concessions stands enabled the Pep Club to sponsor the Homecoming dance. This money also was used to send future cheerleaders to camp.

Pep Club officers for 1969-70 are: S. George - Treasurer, T. Ross - Secretary, S. Dix - President, Mrs. Fischli - Sponsor, D. Christy - Vice-President.

Last summer Mrs. Anna Mae Fischli took G. Perkins, C. Dennis, R. Webb and J. Schmid to camp at Rock Springs Ranch near Junction City. There they received ribbons, two blue, one red, and one white for group competition on cheering technique and enthusiasm. They were very enthusiastic to start the year with many new cheers.

The Homecoming pep rally was held at the lake the night before the game - LEFT TOP. A snake dance was enjoyed by the student body while going to and from the lake. The coaches threw into the fire a dummy, representing the opponents. Janis Ehm, the alternate cheerleader, also cheered at the pep rally - LEFT BOTTOM. Jan also cheered at some of the other games.

The 1969-70 cheerleaders are D. Elliott, J. Schmid (head), C. Dennis, G. Perkins, and R. Webb.

Student Council Has Active Year

ABOVE: Greg Abbott and Joe Goracke put the finishing touches on the sign in front of the school, one of the many projects of the Student Council.

ABOVE: Barry Miller and Bob Ragsdale play a game of ping-pong on one of the two new tables that were acquired for the school by the Student Council.

Led by Greg Abbott the Student Council had a busy year. They sponsored the Valentine's Dance, measured the auditorium for carpet, promoted the buying of ping-pong tables, and erected the sign on the school lawn.

CLASSES

Homemaking Skills Valuable

TOP LEFT: While studying housing requirements, Mrs. Anna Mae Fischli shows the senior home economics class a house plan by using the overhead projector. Field trips to tour modern homes are included in the study.

TOP RIGHT: Diana Bradley acts as hostess during the freshmen's home economics class meal. As part of their study, the girls were required to manage their time well enough to have meals served on time and to have time for cleaning up before the period was over.

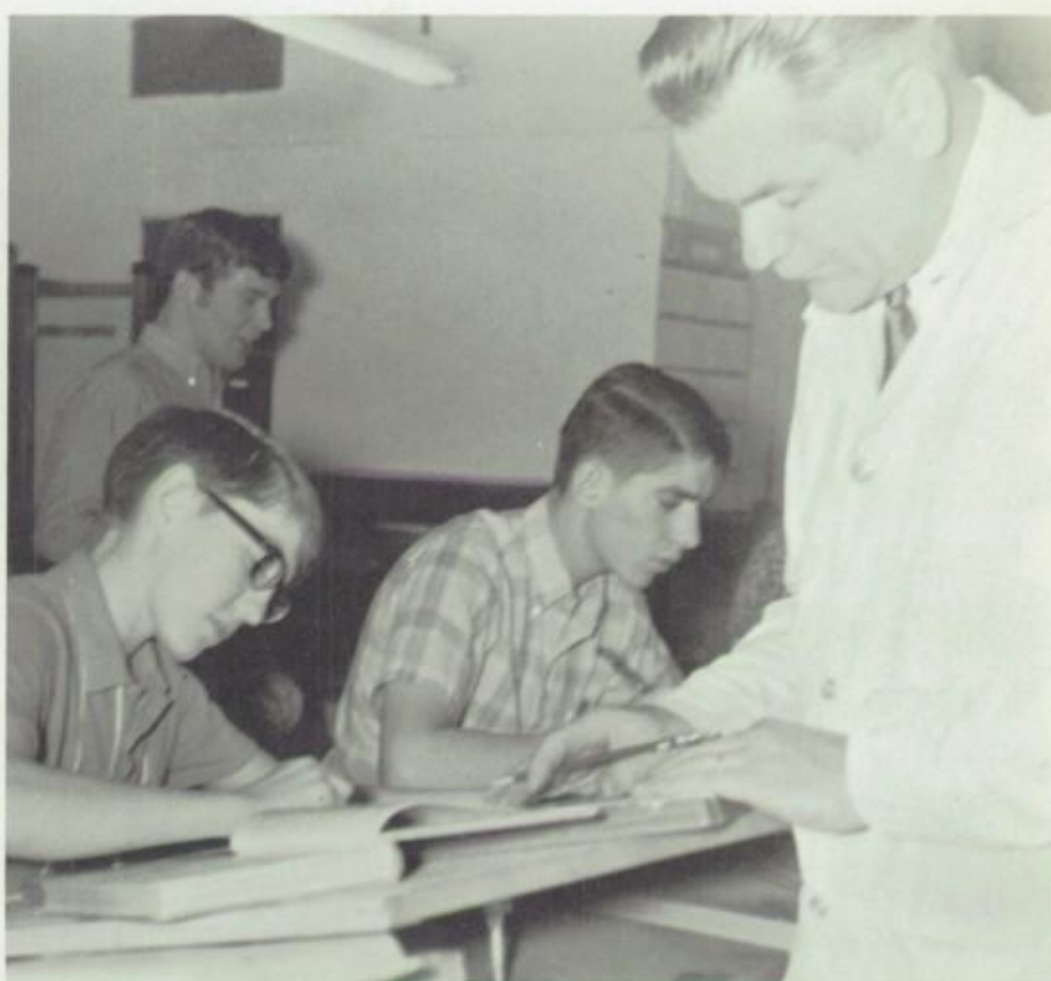

CENTER RIGHT: Displaying the garments they entered in the "Sew It Yourself With Wool" contest at Wakeeney in the fall are Sonja Webb, Gail Thomas, Joyce Haskett, and Brenda Lala. Joyce and Brenda from the sophomore home economics class placed in the contest. Brenda was chosen first alternate to state for her coat ensemble. Joyce's coat was selected as the best constructed garment. Both girls were competing with 25 girls from the area in the junior division.

BOTTOM RIGHT: A new idea was tried this year when both boys and girls modeled in the fashion show presented by all the home economics classes. Eldon Blackburn models his outfit as Brenda Lala describes it.

Mrs. Fischli also is instructor for a psychology and sociology class.

Students Get Practical Education

Driver education, Industrial Arts I and II, Shop III and IV in addition to biology are the practical courses taught by Mr. James Seachord.

Students Enjoy English

RIGHT: Discussion groups were also part of instruction in the English IV class.

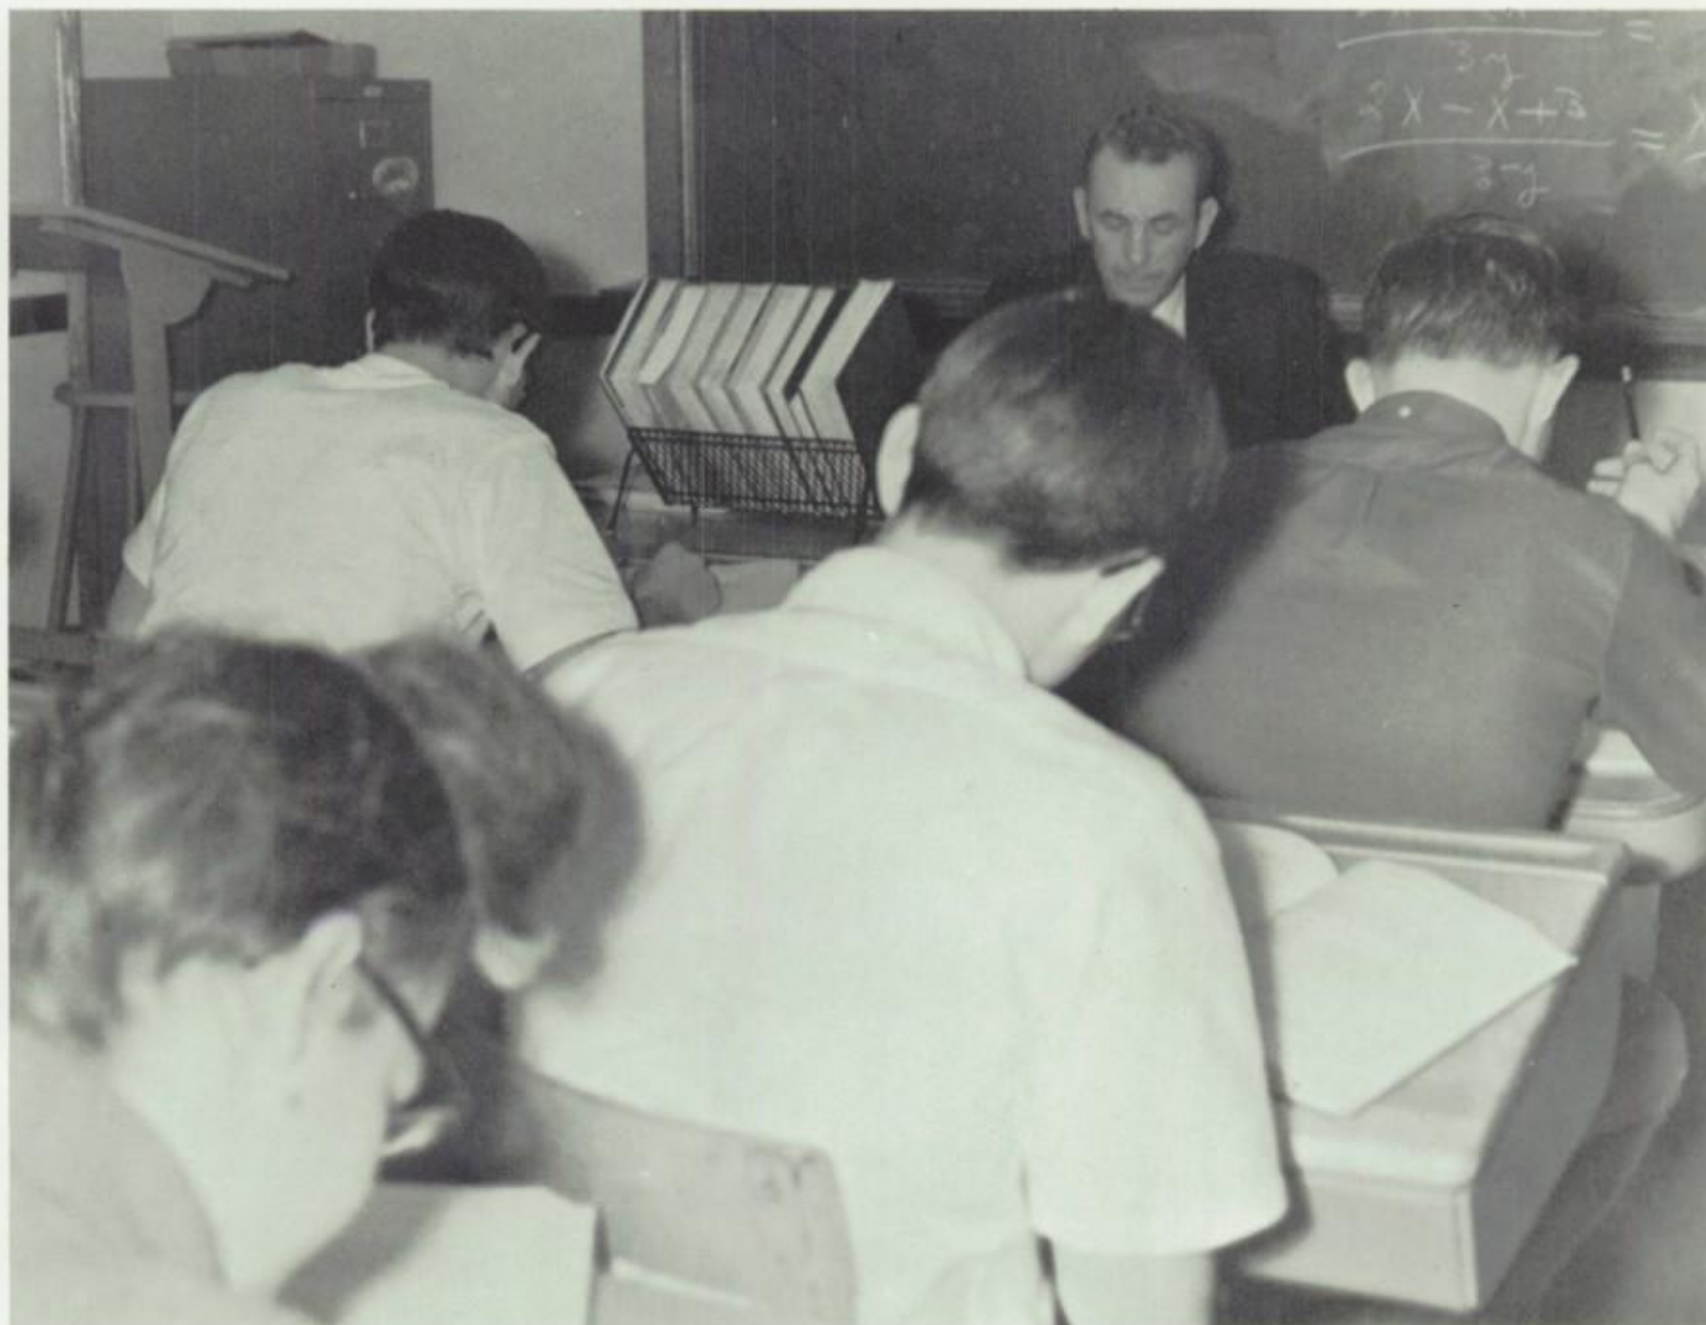

BOTTOM LEFT: Georgia Perkins received the award of a free trip to Washington D.C. for her essay which she entered in the Rural Electric Cooperative essay contest.

Under the direction of Mr. Ronald Fischli, English, speech, and news writing were not only fun, but also very profitable.

Mr. Fischli taught English I, II, III, and IV, and also a class in drama and news writing. He also directed the students who participated in the Drama Festival. Much extra time was necessary.

Math And Phys. Ed. Teach Needed Skills

Mr. Keith Farrens served as head football and track coach. He also taught physical education and mathematics. His mathematics classes consisted of geometry, Algebra I and II.

Health was studied by each student for an entire semester and physical education for the girls was on Tuesday and Thursday while the boys took it on Monday and Wednesday.

Science Opens New Vistas

Three teachers taught the science classes during 1969-70. Mr. W. C. Fleming taught physics and general science. Mr. James Seachord was in charge of the biology class and Mr. Dee Webb instructed the chemistry students.

Each day in these classes the students gained new insights and got to understand their biological, physical and chemical surroundings better.

Laboratory experimentation made more meaningful the facts learned from the textbooks. Stress was placed on the practical application of knowledge that was gained.

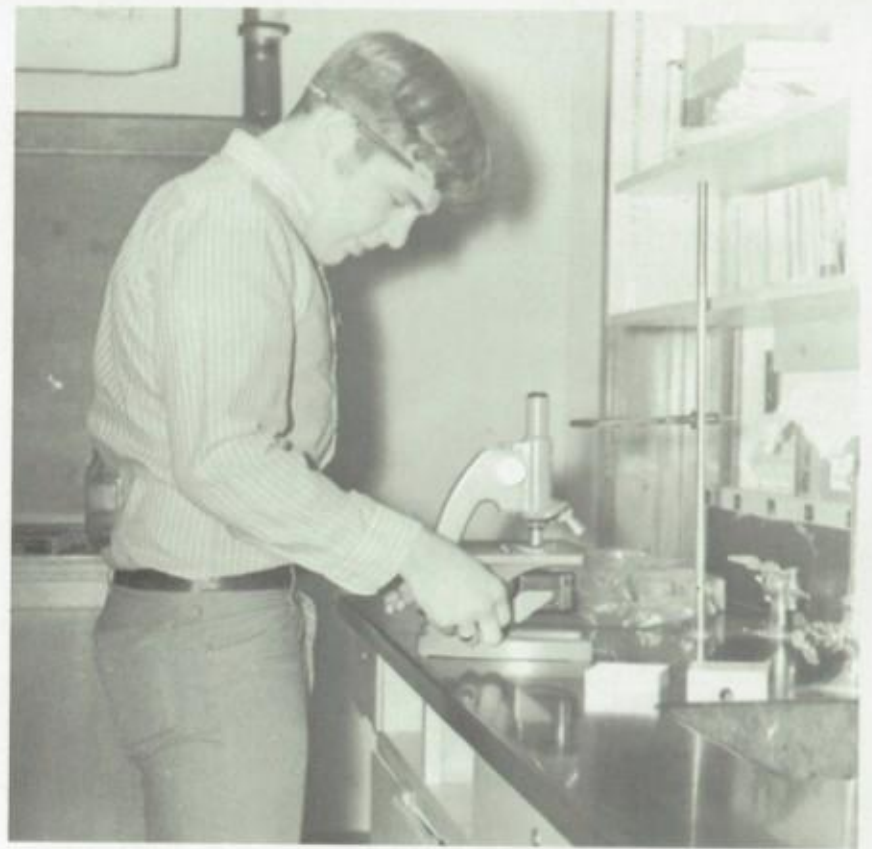

The well-equipped laboratory added greatly to the interest in the various science courses. Students thrilled to see tiny plant cells enlarged for study by the microscope.

UPPER RIGHT: Mr. Seachord's biology class is pictured studying the text and laboratory manuals in preparation for an experiment. Steve Knowles thinks he is about ready to begin. Myron Bice is reflecting on the best approach to the problem and Virginia Kincaid and Brenda Lala are still reading their books. The students in the background are also busy.

CENTER RIGHT: Steve Knowles is getting his microscope adjusted to study a plant slide.

LOWER RIGHT: Alan Seachord, Robert Kaiser, and Ray Herbel are working on a difficult problem in physics.

BELOW: A chemistry experiment is being performed.

Social Studies Challenge Youth

Mr. W. C. Fleming, who is the teacher of American Government, helped the students get an understanding of the governmental structure, functions and problems. He aroused them to prepare for effective citizenship.

Mrs. Carolyn Redinger in her American History class guided the seniors in an appreciation of the history, social heritage, and challenge of our country. In world history she instructed regarding the facts of the world's story from its dawn to the present.

The work in all of the social science classes was made meaningful through the use of films, maps, recordings, and transparencies.

UPPER RIGHT: Mrs. Redinger is explaining the assignment in American History. Barry Miller, Joe Goracke and Sue George are interested.

Humanities Reflect Ability

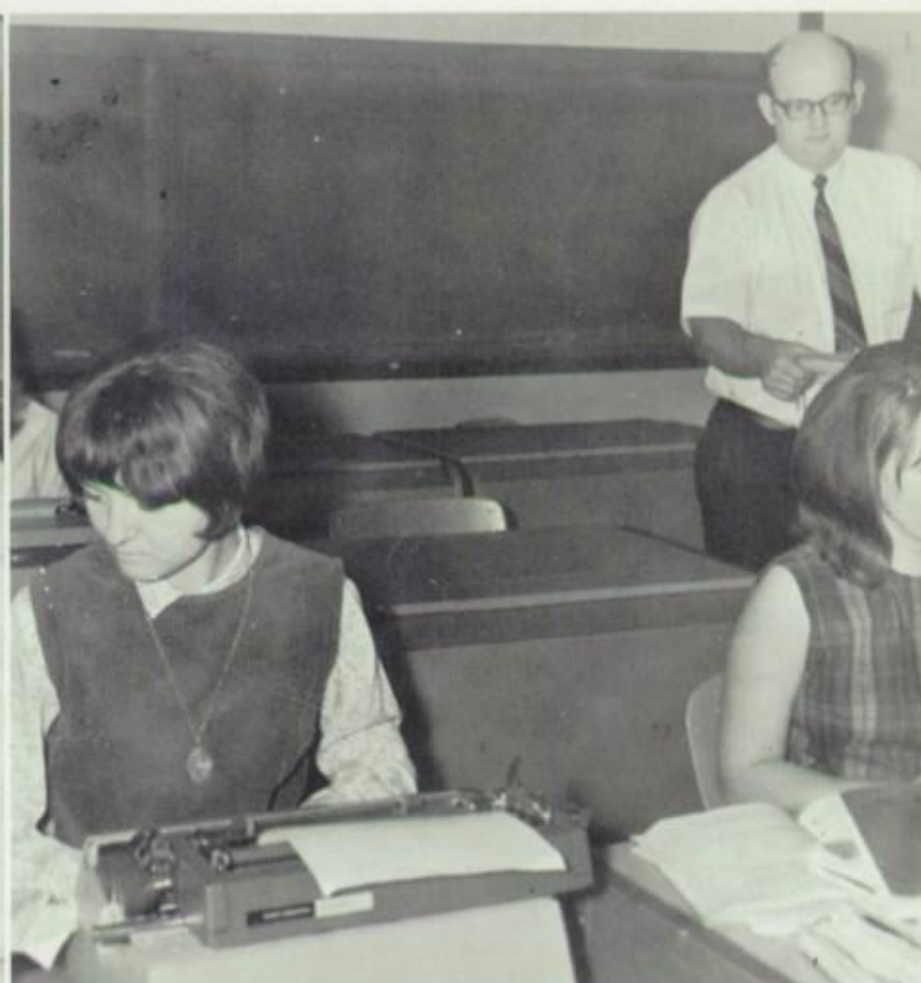

Humanities taught by Miss Lina M. Shippy include Latin I, German I and II, psychology, sociology, and publication of the school yearbook.

In all these the students learn about the qualities that distinguish people as humane - including the better understanding of themselves, culture, and sympathetic appreciation of others. More effective communication results from the language study. Desirable study habits and ability to think and use ideas are stressed.

Business Students Keep Busy

Mr. Gary Butler taught typing I, shorthand, office practice, general business and economics. In typing the students gained both personal and business typing efficiency. The shorthand and office practice girls were fitted to go to work in actual office situations.

A mixed class in general business prepared to handle their own business problems in later life. The science of the wealth getting, wealth using and wealth distribution activities of man were studied in economics.

Keeping Books Life-Time Job

Bookkeeping and business law, taught by Mr. C. A. Schamber, are important subjects offered in Eastern Heights High School. Bookkeeping is truly a life-time job. Business law also gives principles which are usable in many situations.

In Memory Of

Pamela Lawyer

The entire community was saddened by the sudden death of Pamela Lawyer, eleven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lawyer of Kirwin, Kansas.

On December 29, 1969, Pamela Lawyer, a sixth grader, died following brain surgery at the Kansas University Medical Center in Kansas City. Pamela became seriously ill on Christmas Day and was admitted to the Smith County Hospital. Her condition worsened and she was flown to the Medical Center at Kansas City.

EHGS Bands Learn Fundamentals

The first two pictures are of the advanced grade school band. This band went to the Music Festival this spring and came home with a II rating.

The bottom picture is of the grade beginners band. It is made up of fifth graders who will join the advanced band next fall.

Both bands are under the direction of Mr. Carl Bock.

The grade vocal music department was under the direction of Mrs. Mary Conklin.

Besides a number of solos and ensembles, the grades entered several choruses in the festival.

The Junior High Boys' Glee came home with a II rating. The Junior High Girls' Glee received a III rating. A Junior High Mixed Chorus earned a II rating.

Also, the Sixth Grade Chorus earned a I rating.

Completing this book required the skills and help of many people. The annual staff worked hard to make this annual a success.

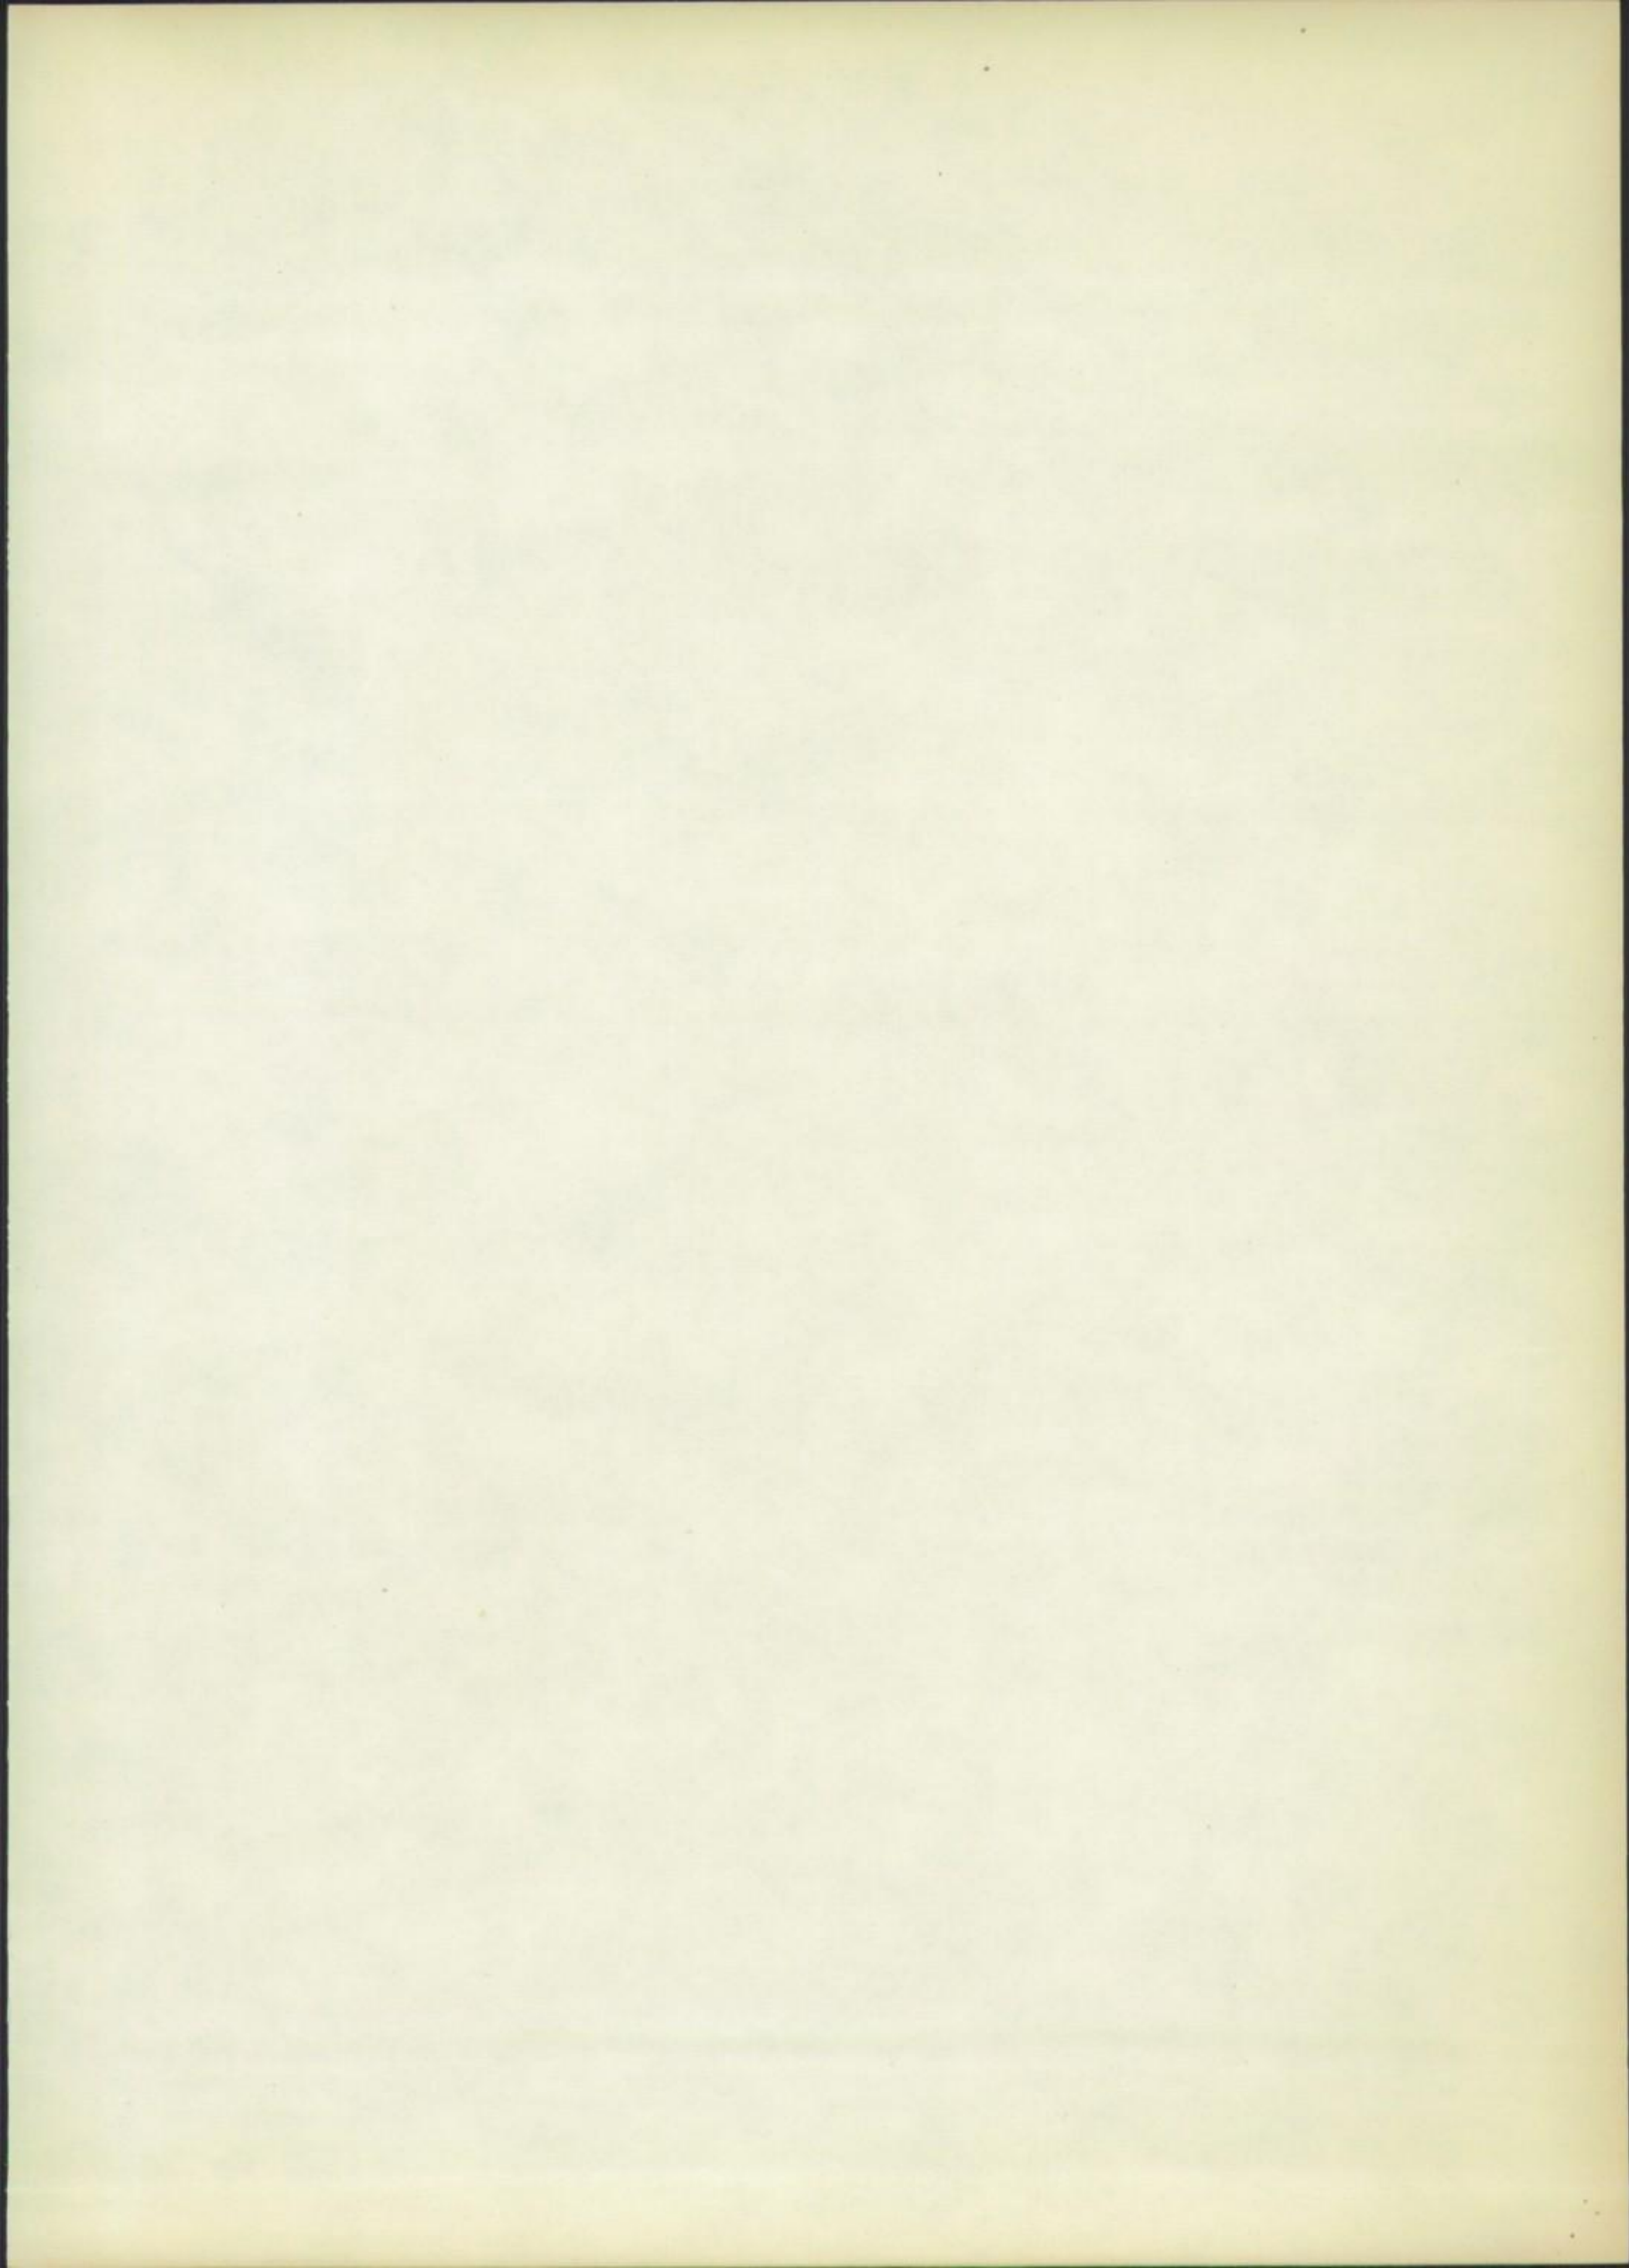

We would like to thank Miss Lina M. Shippy, our advisor, for all the assistance she has given us. We certainly could not have done the work without her.

Next, we would like to thank those people and businesses who bought the advertisements which made this book possible.

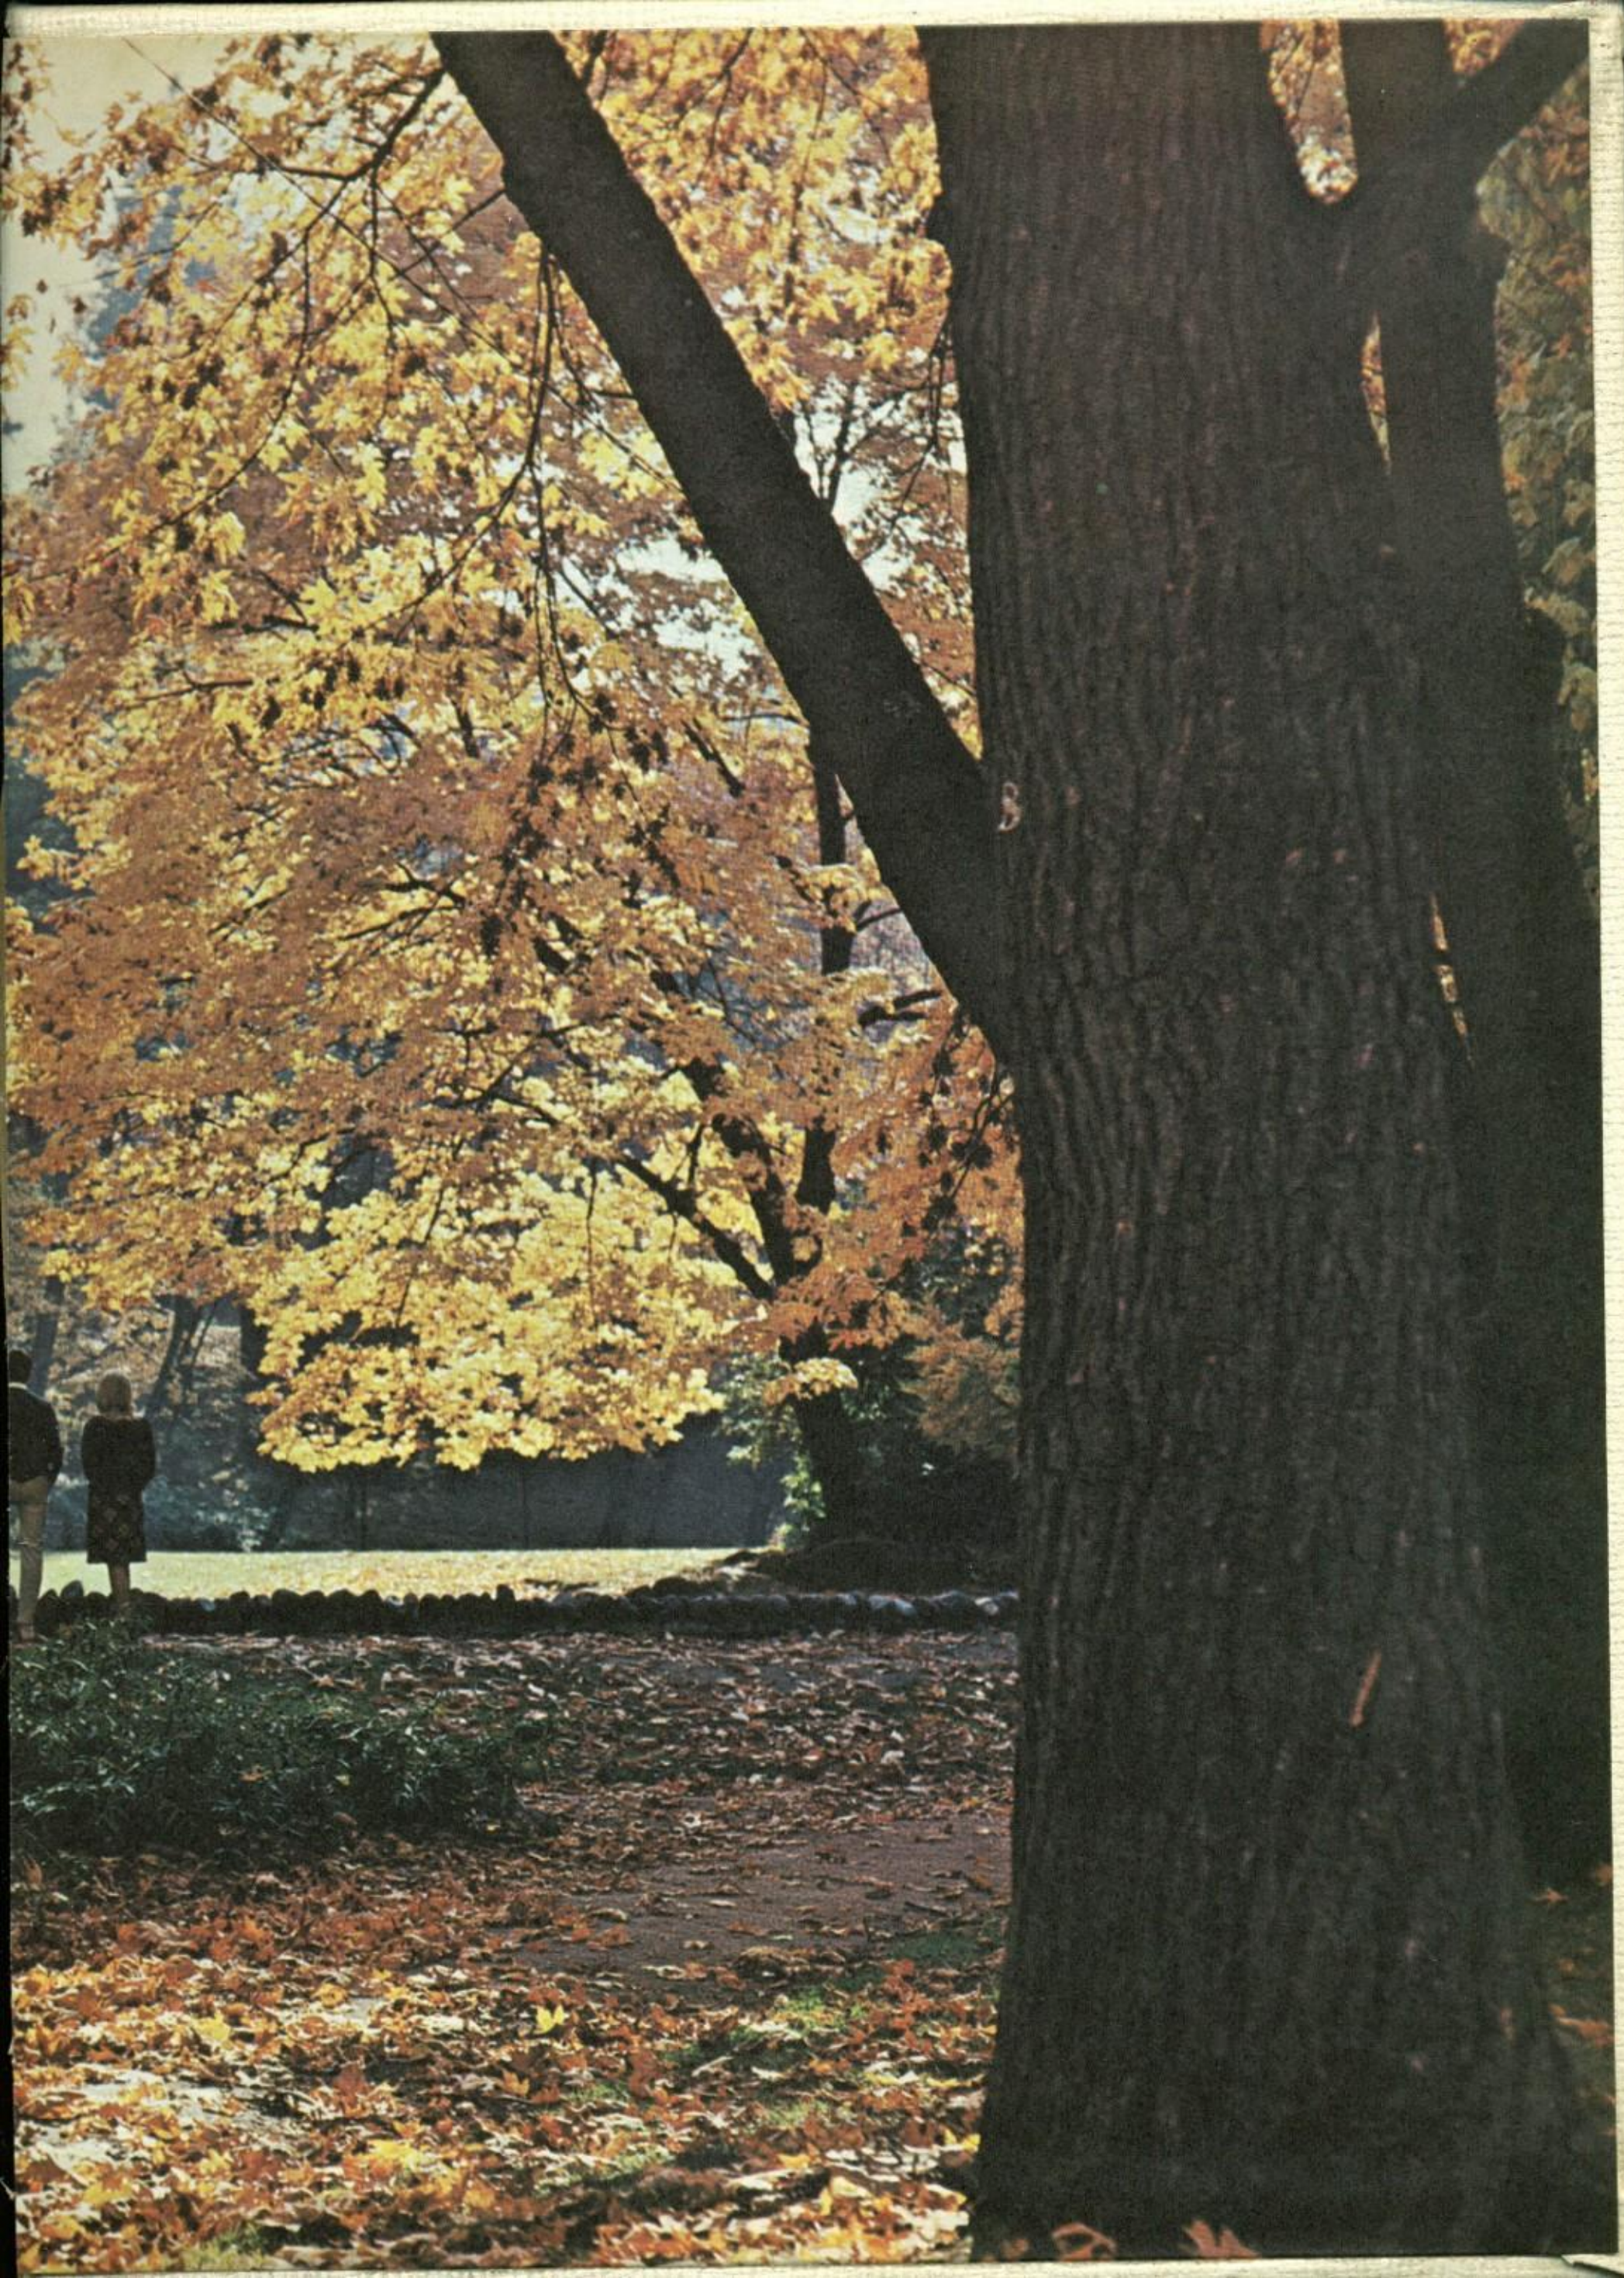

Compiled within the 1970 MUSTANG are the reflections of the school year 1969-1970. In the years to come, we hope you will return to this book and remember the good times at Eastern Heights recalled in it.
